Farm Bureau Official Information

FOREIGN CHEESE PRODUCERS JOIN

Organization for State Incorporated to Market Product.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Madison—The Wisconsin Foreign Cheese Producers' (Cooperative), was incorporated today following a conference of leaders of the conference here yesterday. Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state and recorded with the Dane county register of deeds. The articles were drawn by Alvin H. Buehler, counsel for the state department of markets.

Madison will be headquarters for Wisconsin cheese producers and endeavor. Articles of incorporation include under the business of the body the handling of foreign type cheese and other dairy products, and the sale of dairy equipment and supplies.

George Hull on List. George Hull, Wisconsin representative of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation; A. N. Thorburn, Mount Horeb; W. L. Heindel, South Wayne; Henry A. Arneson, Mount Horeb; William O. Monroe, Charles Grebel, Randolph; Frank Montgomery, Brownstown; James Neale, Juneau; and T. G. Lingard, Mount Horeb.

Initial capitalization of the federation is $1,000. This amount, however, will be increased at the rate of at least $50,000 a year by deductions of two-fifths cents per pound of cheese money, which would raise this amount as a minimum upon the basis of one hundred factories, designated as the starting point of the contract in the Monroe.

Two districts are designated by the arrangement. One includes Green, Lafayette, Dane and Iowa counties, and the other, Dodge, Columbia and Washington counties. Representatives of these counties attended the conference here yesterday.

Committee of twenty-three representatives, farmers and dairymen from the counties embraced in the organization, will work with factories in their counties. Several hundred cooperative farmers' factories will be asked to join the new federation. Organization work will begin immediately in both of the districts, it is stated.

Markets Department. The federation was sponsored by the state department of markets. Commissioner Edward Nordman called the organization conference, and Alvin C. Cole, attorney, prepared contracts and other documents for the group.

Co-ops Confer at Madison. Madison—Organization of the Wisconsin Co-operative Council, composed of all state-wide co-operative organizations, is the purpose of a conference which opened here today at the call of John B. Jones, Jr., state commissioner of agriculture. Experts in co-operative work will be requested to send two representatives each to the convention. The body invited to join were Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation, Foreign Cheese Producers' federation, Wisconsin Co-operative Creameries association, Co-operative Live Stock Sales association, Door County Fruit Growers' association, Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool, Wisconsin Cranberry Sales company, Milk Producers' association, supplying milk for city consumption, and Milk Producers' association, supplying milk for manufacturing purposes.

The primary purpose of the council will be to promote co-operative marketing; to form a policy to bring about united effort of co-operative bodies; to coordinate activities of co-operative associations.

Commissioner Jones, Marketing Commissioner Edward Nordman, and a representative of the college of agriculture would be ex-officio members of the council under present plans.

World's Winner Is Mabel Wiess. Monticello—Another world's championship has been annexed to Wisconsin's string, according to agricultural officials. Mabel Wiess, two-year-old Brown Swiss heifer, owned by Voogel Brothers here, has just finished a record of 723.27 pounds of butter fat from 15,144 pounds of milk, making her the world's champion producing two-year-old Brown Swiss.

300 ATTEND FARM BUREAU MEETING IN AFTON ON WEDNESDAY. There were 300 people attending the Farm Bureau meeting in Afton Wednesday night, when motion pictures of the United States Department of Agriculture, obtained by Dr. Arthur Knilians, were exhibited.

The protection by an unexcelled system of meat inspection at the packing plants was first shown to bring out the rigid methods employed to protect the meat supply. In Wisconsin about one-third of the hogs slaughtered show infection, except those from accredited areas where the infection is slight.

Value of a pig was shown by the new film, "Clean Herd and Heats," a well directed and acted four reel film, which placed the value of a pig in the hands of the farmer. Following the showing of the film a number of new piglets were obtained by H. C. Hemmingsway, secretary of the Farm Bureau.

With funds raised at community dances, the township bureau will purchase a motion picture machine to be used in the programs. A fine indoor playground will be in connection with the meeting.

The film will be shown at Richmond on Thursday night. The Afton program were Miss Luella Borken, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, Miss Alice Finane, James Donnelly and Dan Smith, who featured with original songs and jokes, despite his 70 years of age.

SEALS MOVE SOUTHWARD. Cordova, Alaska—Seal herds have started to move north earlier this year than usual, according to captains of vessels plying the North Pacific ocean. Large bands have been noticed off Cape Barrow, Cal. The Coast Guard cutter Shenomah has received orders to patrol with the seal herds to Dixon Entrance.

DOG LAW MONEY BACK TO COUNTIES

Cost 15 Per Cent to Collect—Little for Sheepmen Losses.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Madison—Loss that half of the receipts under the Wisconsin dog law found their way into the pockets of sheepmen whose flocks had been depredated by dog attacks the past year, according to statistics prepared by A. B. Alexander of the state department of agriculture. The estimated dog income was $25,000, of which $20,000 went to assessors and treasurers as fees. Approximately $35,000 reached the claimants for the damages done their flocks.

Under the terms of the law, according to Alexander, 15 percent of the receipts must be turned over to the state to defray the expenses of printing and mailing notices, and the salaries of inspectors, who make from one to three or more trips to the various counties each year. The amount turned over to the state last year was $20,825.98, but only $4,508.01 was used, as the remainder was returned to the counties. Altogether, the net balance available for redistribution to towns, villages and cities amounts to nearly $25,500.

Sheepmen, whose flocks have been injured by dogs, regard the present mode of apportioning losses as well below par, it is said. Their contention is that breed ewes are worth much more than the market or must price, which towns and county officers may accept as standard. In their opinion, too little difference is made in the valuation of sheep losses regardless of type, breeding and conditions, officials declare.

Furniture History Outlined to Lions. Furniture's historical development and present manufacturing methods, was the topic of J. C. McCarthy, secretary of the Rockford Hardware Store, who spoke at the weekly dinner of the Lions' club Wednesday night. His talk was illustrated with slides.

Mr. McCarthy spoke particularly in regard to making furniture in his own city, stating that practically all manufactured furniture was of native origin. He stated that the city consumed two-thirds of the supply used for that purpose in the country.

He was assisted by John Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who spoke at the meeting. The speaker was brought here through the effort of John Call.

S. B. Weichert, the only one from Janesville who attended the recent state convention at Green Bay, made a short report of the session. The city received a good deal of publicity at the meeting, he said.

JUNIOR CLUB PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING MAY 27. An important meeting of the Rock county junior club committee will be held Tuesday, May 27, at 8 p. m. in the court house at Janesville. A full attendance of the club workers is desired.

A plan for the standardization of clubs in Rock county and making the county a standard club county, the first in the United States for club work, will be explained by Bert Bell, Chicago.

During the meeting methods of handling the pig club and the date for delivery of the spring gifts to new club members will be discussed.

VOTE TO CONSERVE ALASKAN FISHING. Washington—Without a record vote the senate Wednesday passed house bill giving the secretary of commerce authority to establish closed areas in Alaskan fishing waters and to enforce measures designed to conserve the industry. The only change made in the senate was to eliminate the section relating to the prohibition of use of traps and seines.

MAY ALLOW CLAIM FOR ROAD MATERIAL. Madison—The state highway commission, with the approval of the governor, may allow claims of county for gravel or other material furnished in a contract which was agreed to by the state but left out of the contract by error, the legal department today informed the state highway commission.

DENIES METHODIST CHURCH LIFTS LID

Pastor Declares Standards Are Not Lowered; Wording of Rule Changed.

The Methodist church has not receded from its stand on worldliness and its position on the subject of dancing, theaters, and other amusements is the same as always, but the matter is put up largely to the individual—with the removal of the enforcement clause, declares Dr. Frederick E. Case, pastor of Carroll Methodist church.

"The church, through action of the general conference, has removed from its special advice to members, that part which enumerates those things for which a person may be expelled, and with a reaffirmation of its stand against worldliness, has left it up to one's conscience," Dr. Case said in further explanation.

"The idea has gone out that the church has changed its mind about the amusement question, has receded from its position," said Dr. Case. "The church has not changed its mind. It is stating its position in conformity with the general rules of the church, which warn the people from taking such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus."

"The report that the Methodist has an amendment's account, those which cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus was lifted, is incorrect. Nothing was lifted, it was simply restated."

"The paragraph in which were set forth a catalog of things a Christian ought not to do, will doubtless be taken from the discipline and in its place will come the expressed expectation of the church, that its members will maintain the same attitude against worldliness, that the church has always maintained."

"The stand taken by the Methodist church on worldliness is the same as that of the Episcopal, Presbyterian and several other Protestant churches, though stated in different language, the Methodist pastor says.

The enforcement clause has never been rightly enforced by the Methodist church, but long has been the subject of controversy at general conference.

MONARCH ESCAPES DEATH BY HAIR. [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] London—King Ferdinand of Rumania is reported by the Bucharest correspondent of the Daily Express to have narrowly escaped death during the prolonged series of explosions which occurred in the central ammunition depot, two miles west of the Rumanian capital yesterday. The king, the correspondent said, approached so near the arsenal that General Madrescu was obliged to drag him away, and a shell fell and exploded at the spot where he had been standing.

Rockford High Band May Play Here on June 8

Planning to visit Edgerton, Cambridge, Lake Ripley and Ft. Atkinson in a week-end tour into Wisconsin, June 6-8, the Rockford high school band may also play a half hour's concert in Janesville if he can be known Thursday.

The permission of City Manager Henry Traxler to appear in a few numbers here has been sought by John T. Haight, director of the band, and has been granted.

According to Mr. Haight's letter, the Rockford band will leave Friday, June 6, and will play a concert in Edgerton that night. On Saturday they will be in Cambridge all day, going to Lake Ripley and Ft. Atkinson on Sunday, June 8. Expected to arrive in Janesville between 2:45 and 3:15 p. m. the same day on their return to Rockford, the young musicians want to stop off for a short concert here.

The band is declared to be one of the best high school organizations in the country. It recently played in Atlantic City in connection with a national convention.

CITY REJECTS TWO CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES. Declaring that the city assumed no liability in either accident, City Manager Henry Traxler has returned bills filed against the city by Bart D. Topping, Evansville, and Edwin Tison, Janesville. Today's car was damaged when it struck a sewer lateral ditch on North Washington street and Brown ran his car into an excavating machine in a street.

Hotly denied was first territorial governor of the state. After 10 years of struggle over admission of the state to the union, the first constitutional convention of the state met in Madison in 1846 and drafted a constitution. The document was rejected by a vote of the people and a second convention was necessary.

The present constitution was drafted by the second convention, which assembled in 1847, and was ratified by a vote of the people in March, 1848. The vote for ratification stood: For, 16,797; against, 6,383. Formal admission to the union followed on May 29. Governor Dewey and other state officials were sworn into office on June 7, 1848.

Wisconsin was the 30th state admitted to the union. It had a population, when admitted, of nearly a quarter of a million. By 1850, the population had increased to 305,000, and by 1860, to 775,000. In spite of the losses and general decline of immigration during the Civil war, the census of 1870 shows a population of 1,054,570. The state's population now is approximately 2,700,000. The period of the state's history, from 1800 to 1850, was a period of rapid expansion. Railroads were pushed into the new territory and other industries sprang up.

The lumbering business sprang into importance during this period and Wisconsin began to vie with Michigan for the cream of the trade. Farming, lumbering and general commerce, and mining constituted the major industries of the state during the period.

The Dager state began its political history under democratic control. In 1848, however, a republican came to the legislature, and the Wisconsin State Telephone association, will be one of the speakers at the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Telephone association at Madison June 4-5-6. Her subject will be "Public Relations in Small Exchanges."

Richard Valentine, of the Rock County Farmers Telephone company, will be the only representative from Janesville in attendance, insofar as now known.

STATE 76 YEARS OF AGE TODAY

Wisconsin Celebrates Its Youth Recalling Few Historical Facts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Madison—Wisconsin today is celebrating the seventy-sixth anniversary of its admission into the union of states of the nation. The day was proclaimed as Wisconsin Day by Governor Blaine, and schools and civic organizations were called upon to plan suitable observances for the day.

On May 29, 1848, President Polk signed the bill which admitted Wisconsin to statehood. For several years previous, the territorial government had existed. The territory of Wisconsin was organized in 1836.

Madison for Capital. Madison was selected as the state capital by the territorial legislature, which met at Belmont, near Platteville, in 1836. The first capital building will become property of the state conservation commission on June 1, when elaborate ceremonies transferring the building will be held on the site of the first state government.

Madison was first territorial governor of the state. After 10 years of struggle over admission of the state to the union, the first constitutional convention of the state met in Madison in 1846 and drafted a constitution. The document was rejected by a vote of the people and a second convention was necessary.

The Japanese Gesture

The Japanese could not come here anyway under the former gentlemen's agreement. They admit that, though the residents of California and other Pacific states are of a contrary opinion. That the agreement has been evaded, as many times specifically pointed out, is also accepted as a fact by Japan in the announcement some time ago, that the "picture bride" traffic had been stopped.
 The exclusion treaty merely puts on paper what then was an admitted condition. It wrote a law instead of a handshaking understanding.
 No nation could take serious offense at an act of that character unless seeking for an excuse to make trouble and open attack or making a political gesture.

It may be well to go as far as possible in all decency to placate an enemy—for the position Japan has assumed on the exclusion act is evidence that her friendliness is truly Japanese and savors more of an enemy—to do all possible to make diplomacy straight for a friend, but in doing so the United States cannot surrender her rights as a nation or make exception of another nation because it happens to wear its heart on its sleeve and is extremely jealous of its own egotism.

Italy and Greece, Poland and other nations of Europe have far more reason to be vexed over the immigration bill than has Japan. We do not admit the right of any outside nation to dictate to us what we shall do in legislation, or be swayed by outside influences whatsoever.
 It is not hard for one to understand the position of Secretary of State Hughes, backed up by the president. They have a policy to carry out in keeping the peace. They had hoped that the matter could have been settled by treaty. But why settle with Japan in that manner and not with Italy?

It may be that Japan seeing our pacifist mood and our non-resistant program feels that this is a good time for war, but that is unbelievable.
 More to the point is the political disturbance the government is having at home and the demand from the people that they be given more of an opportunity in the government. As a sop to them the jingoists are ready to stir up antagonism against America. The government to placate them is making its gesture of protest. But whatever the reason, it will not appeal to the ordinary citizen of this country that we shall be dictated to in legislation by Japanese or meekly bow to Japanese demands.

The reds won in a slugging match in the Reichstag. Why didn't the opposition sing "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More," and win hands down?

The Judiciary.

We want to make this plain that the statement is quoted when we reprint here what George W.
 Alger, a noted jurist of New York, said the other day to a meeting of 11 bar associations:

They say that the average of our judges now is better than it ever was. But we should not deal with averages, for in this one hand we see a few men of sterling ability and on the other hand subnormal morons administering justice.

Mr. Alger said that the result of incompetent judges was the 3,000 odd sections on the state statute books. It is probably wrong; the 3,000 statute laws in themselves make for bad judges.

What he apparently was getting at was that the court was held and bound within the realm of the law as written. What was needed was a judge who could interpret the principles of law without being held back by the lids of the statute books. It may be that in so deciding according to the statutes the judge insults his own sense of decency. It may be also that he feels that the hedge rows behind which he sits are too confining but he must needs be "within the law."

The wonder is that with so many laws and so many ambiguities there is not more grave injustice done.

The hats in the governor ring already crowd each other.

A Puppet Rank.

We do not wonder that the rank and file of the Labor party in Scotland and England as well, are more or less disgusted with their Jamie Brown, erstwhile coal miner and dweller in a little stone house in a miners' row, when he's all dogged up with his red robe, pink silk breeches, puppet crown and scepter, holding forth at Holmwood castle as the personal representative of the King of England and Scotland. Subjects kiss his hand, and courtesy to him. The democratic notions of what a Labor government would do with all this remnant of the days when kings sent men to dungeons and hanged here and there as they willed—the very essence of man's inhumanity to man—are violated by this display of royal tom-myrot. In the United States of America we have no "subjects," only citizens and we need no class government to establish citizenship. That was done some 140 years ago when we threw King George's prerogatives into the ocean along with a lot of tea chests.

"Art Supply Shop," should be over the cosmetic dealer's store.

A democratic candidate for governor of Missouri has withdrawn from the race because he

Women's Political Plattsburgs

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—Women continue to take politics seriously. When American women first displayed a solemn interest in national affairs and a strong sense of personal responsibility regarding the vote, a frequent comment was that they would soon enough begin to take politics as a matter of course. The tendency appears to be quite otherwise. Women of the Republican party are holding campaign training schools on political plat-tburgs in different cities to prepare for the coming election contest, and the results indicate that the feminine politician, professional or amateur, is developing into a new and very earnest political type.

So intensely do the women hold their political ideas that instructors find it almost impossible to get a woman student to make any humorous remarks in a speech, or even to tell a funny story in illustration of a point. The woman politician can appreciate the effectiveness of Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton's ten rules for women speakers, including the famous suggestion: "Don't dress like a purpleback rider or a tin snail circus dancer," and "Don't yell at your audience as if you were calling Johnny in to lunch."

But when she comes to make her own speeches the amateur woman politician is so fired by the importance of what she wants to say that she can not drop to the casual level of sharing a jest with the audience. This is a little thing, but it is significant.

When one of the republican training schools was held in this city not long ago, 205 women enrolled. Senator's wives, club women, writers, and women who hope to become campaign speakers for that party attended the course. The students paid a tuition fee and attended classes and lectures day and night for four days. At the end of the week 255 of the 205 students took the examination to obtain certificates.

The examination was not a snap. The students were required to discuss such questions as: "What are the three essential functions of government?" State one fundamental difference between the two parties? What is meant by freedom of speech in the constitution? What has been omitted from this course which you would have liked to have included?"

The students taking the course were addressed by eight congressmen, three cabinet members, and other government officials. These men discussed on such matters as the intricacies of the budget, taxation problems, immigration, the constitution, and foreign relations.

All the subjects presented the women were most interested in the budget and the tariff. Men politicians were puzzled by this interest in the two driest and most impersonal subjects in government affairs, but to the women the reason was clear enough. Most of them had very little to do with foreign relations in their experience, but they felt that prices on food, clothing, and other necessities were matters that directly concern the women of the country.

Besides acquiring cold facts and arguments about party politics, the women students also took daily lessons in public speaking, to enable them to communicate their ideas.

The public speaking class, conducted by Mrs.
 Anne Renshaw, was particularly interesting to a non-partisan onlooker. The building campaign but to concentrate on the affairs of their own party and on its platform. They were given three rules for speaking which, if universally applied, would revolutionize political campaigns. The rules were: Have something to say; know how to say it; know when to stop.

Mrs. Renshaw says that in the past America has produced a few outstanding orators, men inspired to great eloquence by sublime idealism.
 Today we live in a practical age. Campaign oratory is over, but campaign speeches are mendly gaining in importance. The successful political speaker today is the man or woman who can explain a cause so clearly, simply, and convincingly that the audience is not only emotionally aroused, but is also made to think and act.

Spoken arguments have an advantage over written ones in that the voice makes the words dynamic and the vital contact between the speaker and the audience is immediate.

The student speakers were not allowed to lulazine that holding and winning an audience depended on luck and sincerity. Every woman in the class took several turns at practicing expression on the class, so that experience might show her and her fellow students what to do and what not to do.

Brief speeches that any seasoned politician might envy were made. Other brief speeches were delivered timidly and in muffled tones. A few speakers revealed a lack of a fund of definite knowledge about political matters. But one and all the women were there determined to learn.
 Their attitude made clear the statement of an English expert on public speaking who says:

"Today the average woman is more successful in public speaking than the average man, for the simple reason that she appreciates the fact that nothing good is ever achieved without trouble.
 She therefore takes far more pains than the man, and devotes much more time to the training of her voice, the reorganization and preparation of matter, and careful practice in the art of speaking."

Mrs. William Wolf Smith, who organized the training school held in this city, predicts that women will take a prominent part in speech making in the coming campaign. In past elections, addressing clubs and other nonpolitical organizations, but so far as a party was concerned these speeches were not vote getters. The audiences were mixed. There were anti-suffragists; there were other women who would fight and die for a certain ideal of government, and for whatever party happened to champion that ideal; there were women who were opposed to aligning themselves with any party; and there were women who were republicans, democrats, and laborers.
 They all sat politely and listened, and went away with their beliefs intact. There was never an opportunity for the speaker to turn her audience of individuals into a single minded crowd and to swing that crowd by an appeal that would reach every section of it.

This summer, women speakers are expected to campaign in larger numbers and they will be more prominently featured than in the past. Many women still have more leisure than men, and so they can volunteer their time and services. The political training schools of the republican women all planned and conducted by the women themselves, are expected to equip 100,000 women for campaign work of various sorts.

So far, courses have been held in different sections of New York State, in Baltimore, Washington, Columbus, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, and in some other cities and some counties. Indianapolis and Denver are the next cities which plan to hold political plattsburgs.

says only a rich man can be a candidate, or sell himself in advance. The primary election costs so much and the canvass is so expensive, that the office of governor is virtually "bought," is his declaration.

Among the most interesting exhibits in the morgue is the drunken driver. Jail him early.

Not a single Ohio man is mentioned for the vice-presidency. This condition should be investigated.

HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES.

At the first of the year said my Nellie to me:
 "In matters financial now let us agree, I'll make an arrangement and say in a few I'll pay the household expenses if you Will pay the insurance, the coal and repairs, The club dues and bills and the clothing and wears."

Said I to my Nellie: "That method is fine—The household is yours, and the others are mine."
 Says Nellie to me without shame or regret:
 "Will you stop at the store? There's a steak I must get."
 And some bread and some tea and your favorite cheese;
 Let me have money to pay for it, please, I've forgotten my purse.—I say: "Charge it, my dear!"

She smilingly answered: "I'm not known in here."

I just want to pick up these few things I lack—
 And I'm stung for a five-spot which never comes back.

Now household expenses, I take it, are all The charges against us which happen to fall.
 When I made that allowance I fancied that I Would have naught but my own simple trinkets to buy.

But here is a wedding gift sent to her niece,
 And here is the bill for a funeral piece,
 And she flings it at me and lays it down flat:
 "You surely don't think that I ought to pay that!"

When I say 'I would be nice some slight favor to show,
 She answers: "It would. Not with my money, though!"

She'll get up a dinner for my friends, but still
 It must be understood that I'm paying the bill.
 I suppose there are men who lead regular lives And keep to the contracts they make with their wives.

And never get stung as my Nellie stings me, But as Nellie remarks: "Oh, what brutes they must be!"

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1924.

Astrologers find this a doubtful day in planetary direction. Saturn and Uranus are both adverse, while the Sun is mildly benefic in influence.

Under this wary progressive and reactionary influence, it will be at odds and this rule probably will affect both business and politics.
 The power of tradition is strong at this time and for that reason those who adhere to established standards have a good chance for success.

Both men and women who are engaged in promoting a big cause should make the best of small opportunities while this configuration prevails.

There is a faintly encouraging sign for those who seek an easier way out of delays and postplements may turn out favorably.

Farmers may find new cause for discouragement at this period of the year, but they have promise of better times.

Flies in houses, schools and other places of public assembly may be unusually numerous and serious.

The president of the United States may suffer from a slight indisposition of some sort between this date and the end of June, the seers foretell.

Religious scandals of various sorts are to supersede other sensations in the coming months.
 There is a sinister sign, that encourages secret organizations to fan sectarian prejudice.

Many wedding notes will mark June, but among them will be an unusual number of marriages between persons past middle age who will be strangely susceptible to Indian summer romances.

Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid all sorts of speculation in the coming year, which will bring many temptations to make easy money.
 Children born on this day have the anxiety of easy, pleasant lives. These subjects of Gemini may dislike responsibility and probably will succeed best as employees.

The medicinal value, and often the safety, of the so-called mineral waters is often questionable.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author.

IODIN IN TABLE SALT

Simple goitre is epidemic in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, West Virginia, Oregon, and in parts of New York and Pennsylvania. In some cities in these regions more than half the school children have simple goitre, the girls being slightly more frequently affected than the boys. In a recent survey in Wexford county, Michigan, 1,232 out of 3,021 girls were found affected with goitre, and 341 out of 1,363 boys showed thyroid enlargement. In the city of Cadillac, in Wexford county, 90.4 per cent of the 2,247 boys and girls examined showed thyroid enlargement; in the rural part of Wexford county (outside of Cadillac) 62.3 per cent of the children showed thyroid enlargement. The water supply of the city of Cadillac shows a very slight trace of iodine, whereas no iodine is found in the water in the rural districts of the country. Another factor which may explain the difference in the goitre rate in urban and rural districts in Wexford county is the more frequent opportunity of the city dweller to obtain sea food which is shipped in to the city market. Oysters, clams, lobster and all fresh sea food contain a small amount of iodine, which is dissolved out of the sea water in the process of canning and salting.

Professor Hayhurst of Ohio State university has urged that iodine should be incorporated in table salt in a suitable proportion to insure a suitable iodine ration to every one who uses table salt. The National Iodine Michigan State Board of Health, the Michigan State Medical Society, the Wayne County Medical Society and the Michigan State Board of Health recommended the manufacture of such a table salt and at least one Michigan concern now markets a table salt containing the proportion of sodium iodide recommended by the health authorities—about .002 per cent sodium iodide.

The rapidly increasing use of such iodine containing salt as table salt, in place of the ordinary table salt, is likely to have a more extensive prophylactic effect than is possible from the mass treatment with iodine or iodine being used in the schools of some of these iodine deficient areas of the Great Lakes region. It is likely to prevent and cure a far greater number of cases of simple goitre than can the practice of iodizing the city water supply, as in Rochester, N. Y. Nearly everybody uses salt, and sooner or later the majority of people who use salt will learn of the availability of the iodine-containing salt in the market. It tastes just like any good salt, and it costs the same as other free-running salt.

The effectiveness of a suitable iodine ration in preventing goitre is absolutely established. The explanation for the startling prevalence of goitre in some regions is simply the lack of sufficient iodine in the food and drinking water. The harmlessness of the very minute quantity of iodine required to prevent simple goitre (and to cure some cases) is equally well established. Get your iodine. Get it from any good grocer now.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
 Sweet Cream.
 Has the consuming sweet cream a bad effect on the stomach, being too rich a food? (A. I.)

Answer: It has a good effect on the stomach, provided it is good food. It is only those who add a dash of sweet cream to an already excessive meal that do harm to the stomach.

Amuse of Vision.
 An optical dealer furnishes "reading and sewing glasses" at a dollar a pair. The glasses magnify slightly.
 They are inferiorly made and need not examination of the customer's eyes. Do such glasses injure the eyes, or are they safe to wear? (W. J. M.)

Answer: For elderly persons such glasses are harmless if they give ease and vision. For young persons such glasses are worse than doing without glasses. Vision is a precious thing and worthy of careful treatment.

WHILE crew racing is confined largely to the University of Wisconsin and St. John's Military Academy in Wisconsin, a school which is the largest state will be represented in the American Henley races on the Schuylkill river at Philadelphia next Saturday. At Madison, Wis., a former student of Superior normal school, and now back at his home in Duluth, will wear the colors of his alma mater. There is an understanding of Walter Hoover, who has been called the world title for single sculls. From all reports he is developing rapidly and although the experts are paying little attention to him, he should be watched. Any pupil of Hoover is apt to break loose and make a change sparkle wherever he pulls his oars.

ACH! Horses do not seem to be fast enough for Berlin, says a news dispatch. As an extra thrill an entertaining manager has announced that 40 catfishes, with their jockeys, mostly Indians, will be brought to Duluth for a catfish race and hand-pulling events with horses. In a distance of 2,000 meters, the horses are to be given a handicap of 1,000 meters. The race is to be held on the fashionable Grand-wald race-course.

IT may be possible that Chick Evans, famous golfer of Chicago, and the United States will be in Janesville during the coming summer. Frank R. Palmer, who probably has more money in the United States than any other Janesville man and who is a personal friend of Evans, has been in correspondence with the great golfer. Evans is to give a little aid in the planning of the local municipal course. Kenneth Parker, also a personal friend of Evans, is now trying to get Chick to come to Janesville to appear at an exhibition at the Janesville Country club. Some years ago, Evans was at the local club as the guest of Mr. Palmer. From that acquaintance, he assisted in laying out some of the hazards.

DIAMOND SPARKLES

National League play gave evidence earlier in season of turning out "different," showed marked tendency Thursday toward usual "happy ending," with Giants and pennant leading. Yankees and Athletics have been prodigal of first place, allowing Cuba quite a dose on the league's mizzenmast. By spanking Brooklyn twice 6-5 and 4-2, Atlanta showed they were tired at footling. Braves were dramatically administered because they came in Cuba took only one from Pirates, 9-6. In American League, Yankees and Athletics alone an hour, but last night, Yankees won first game from Senators, 7-4, as Athletics beat Sox, who are tied with New York for first place. Yankees in afternoon sessions, however, Yankees lost, 6-1, as Red Sox won, 1-0, thus continuing lead over Athletics. Younger league had a very close double header, every team exciting. Davila of St. Louis Browns batted Detroit first game egg of season in second game, allowing them only four hits in a game made seven runs. Tigers took first, 4-3. Cleveland, using Joe Shantz, handled playoff Chicago White Sox game egg in first game, 5-0. In second game, White Sox, using National League, Braves received punishment from Phillies, switches being yielded by Lee and Wilson. Former's triple and latter's single, each secured for all their team runs in 4-1 victory. Walter Cruise, outfielder purchased by Los Angeles club from Braves, will probably play first base for Los Angeles. Chicago split double header, St. Louis winning first, 6-0, and Reds winning second, 5-3. Catcher "Cubby" Tharrett of Cubs hit an error by home run in first game, but in second game, he was hit by home run and had to leave game. Cub's physician said wrist was bruised and he probably would have to remain idle for few days.

Marquette tennis team beats Armour Tech, 6-0.

U. S. Soccer team plays Uruguay in Olympics, Thursday.

Billy Edwards, Kansas City light heavyweight, who won from Mike Young at Lake City, at Portland, Ore., in two hours. Rain caused postponement of lightweight bout between Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, and Larry Vincent. CHICAGO, N. Y.—Young Strubling, Macon, Ga., given referees' decision over Ray Newman, Jersey City, at New Haven (12). Both Gibbons and Carpenter quit training and are ready for Saturday's big international fight at Michigan City. Main bout will be at 3 p. m., with Mandell-Fritsch bout following. # Georges Better Condition Than Tom, Say Experts

GIBBONS EXPECTS TO RUSH OPPONENT IN FIRST ROUNDS

(By Associated Press)

Milwaukee City, Ind.—Their heavy training programs ended, Georges Carpenter and Tommy Gibbons plan Thursday to take only light workouts and perhaps their final ones in preparation for their 10 round international contest here Saturday afternoon.

Gibbons finished his boxing Wednesday and will not pull the gloves on again until he faces his French opponent.

The workout of the St. Paul light heavyweight was the stiffest of his training grind. He stopped the full rounds and finished fast, breathing no harder than usual. Gibbons stayed on his toes during the entire 10 rounds and did not let his heels sag during the minutes' interval between rounds, showing no signs of fatigue. He boxed two rounds with each of his five sparring partners, displaying the most speed while boxing with Sammy Stadel, junior lightweight of Rockford, Ill.

A Hard Target. Shaping punches, allowing them to fall harmlessly on his shoulders and arms, Gibbons looked like he would be a hard target for the Frenchman to hit. The trainers of the St. Paul boxer say he has shown flashes of temper and that he becomes irritated quickly, indicating to them that he is on edge.

The boxing critics, however, believe Gibbons is not drawn as the Frenchman is. They think that both are at the danger point but that Gibbons condition could be a bit better and that Carpenter may be too heavily conditioned.

Neither boxer plans very much additional work as far as training is concerned. Carpenter expects to take a light workout Thursday afternoon, but the question of whether he probably will remain underdressed will get into his gym clothes. He considers he is already in shape and is taking no risk of over training. If his box I may not change said with a shrug of his shoulders. "It all depends how I feel when I get into the ring. I will not over do it. I know my condition better than anybody. I am ready."

PRESIDENT ASKS "RIGHT" CONGRESS

Elections of Solons Favorable to Administration Sought of Voters.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1924, by the Janesville Gazette—Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Washington — President Coolidge's several defeats at the hands of his own party in congress have stirred up bitter feeling inside the republican organization. The difficulty arises out of the fact that many of the president's friends are known by a disparaging name in the republican organization. The difficulty arises out of the fact that many of the president's friends are known by a disparaging name in the republican organization.

In his first address to congress, the president set forth the platform on which his pre-convention campaign has been based and he regards the overwhelming vote for him in the primaries as an endorsement of his ideas. Yet congress, and particularly a large number of his own party, is diametrically opposed to those planks. The president outlined his position topically in his first message, and here is what has happened since:

Foreign affairs: Recommendation by the president that the Japanese exclusion provision be modified or its operation postponed until a treaty could be negotiated with Japan. Refused by both houses of congress and exclusion provision inserted in the bill.

World court: Recommendation in favor of present world court created by League of Nations. Rejected by senate. Foreign relations committee and endorsed by Senator Lodge, republican leader, and other prominent members of party ignoring criticism recommendation and proposing new plan, which Mr. Coolidge has said was not practical.

On Taxation: The president endorsed the plan of the treasury of the treasury. Andrew W. Mellon, which now has been rejected by both houses of congress and a substitute bill adopted. On this proposition the majority of the publicans voted against the president.

Soldier bonus: The president announced that he did not favor the granting of a bonus and stated the government could not afford it. The majority of republicans in congress ignored his plea and voted for the bonus of the bonus over his veto.

Other important questions on which the will of the president has been thwarted are not finally disposed of, but the congressional contrast between the executive's desires and the majority of republicans in congress is apparent in the handling of the Muscle Shoals problem, on which the senate committee favors government operation instead of sale to private interests. Also, the president recommended the Northern-Burton bill for agricultural relief, but congress defeated it.

What a outlook Congress: The logical result of such a situation is an appeal by the executive to the country for a congress of republicans who are supporters of the president. The talk has been that the president was stronger than his party and that as a consequence republicans up for reelection to congress would be swept into power by virtue of their position on the same ticket with him. But that part of the electorate which wants to express its dissatisfaction with congress cannot vote for opponents of the present republican membership, because in many cases primaries have been held and the nominations have been made.

Also, in the senate, some of those who voted against the president, like Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, are up for reelection. How can the public vote tell congress that it prefers Mr. Coolidge to Mr. Lodge as leader of the republican party, for instance?

What Democrats Say: The democrats predict that the independent voters will answer the question by electing a democratic president who has with him a democratic congress. But they don't help the republican voter who has no use for anything democratic. Whoever can solve that puzzle for the friends of Mr. Coolidge will win their eternal gratitude for the "resentment vote" is now a big burden of the campaign for the republicans and the objective of the democrats.

WILL START GOLF COURSE AT ONCE

Temporary Work Is Planned to Assure 6-Hole Links
This Year.

With the written permission of Henry Traxler, city manager, the Janesville Municipal Golf club has started plans to lay out a temporary six-hole golf course in Riverside park. This work is being done with the assistance of Marty Cronk, professional of the Janesville Country club.

The city will hire a landscape and golf architect to lay out the new park. Because of the difficulty of procuring a man who has this combination, matters have been delayed. Rather than wait until such time as such an expert may be brought to Janesville, the public golf organization has decided to go ahead with temporary work so that the people of Janesville may get golf as quickly as possible.

The laying out of the course will in no way interfere with plans to eventually have an 18-hole course here, it is said.

Trips were made to the grounds several times in the past week by Frank S. Raines, J. P. Baker, Frank Sinclair, all of the golf club, and Mr. Cronk. Another visit is to be made Saturday morning, when it is hoped to make a decision on exactly where the tees and greens shall be placed and how the fairways shall run.

Under present plans, the six-hole course would be about 1,000 yards, quite sporty but yet not too difficult for beginners.

It is expected that work in clearing away brush and felling fences will begin next week. The turf has been found in fine shape, giving promise of playing within the very near future.

The temporary course, it is announced, will in no way interfere with plans for the larger course, but is a measure that is being taken to provide golf as the soonest possible moment.

Framed Copies of Historic Papers Presented J. H. S.

Presentation to the high school of two framed copies each of the constitution and the Declaration of Independence was made by Trevelyan Hyslop, in behalf of the class of February, 1924, of which he was president at the senior assembly held Wednesday morning. The gift was purchased with the balance of money remaining in the class treasury.

The copies are replicas of the original documents, and are bordered with Italian illuminating work, the whole in a rich but simple frame. The works have been endorsed by the Boston museum and the Milwaukee public library. They were accepted in behalf of the school by Prin. W. W. Brown. It is planned to hang them on the stair landings.

An original play in three acts, depicting the advantages of good morals and habits over bad, was presented by the junior council in the junior high school assembly. The piece was written by two students, Marjorie Buckingham and Joseph Milpolsky, and given under the direction of George Graham of the faculty. It was given with such success that it is hoped to repeat it at least for the senior high school before school closes.

Memorial Day

THE Unknown Soldier at Arlington symbolizes the legions of the heroic dead. Can we of today do less than pay full homage to those who gave their all? Let us recognize that to our present and future well being—they—for whom today is set aside—made the greatest sacrifice. Let us not only decorate their resting places—let us also carry in our minds a very sincere tribute at all times.
